Dear Parents,

Please can I start by saying a massive thank you for all your donations towards last week's Number Day for the NSPCC – we raised a very respectable £100.99, and the children had such a wonderful day while raising money for a fantastic cause.

We are looking forward to holding face to face parent/teacher consultations in the next few weeks. The date for the consultations is yet to be confirmed, but we hope this will fall within the first few weeks after half term. Once we have a date, we will of course let you know.

Starling class have been working hard all week, practicing their performance piece for the Cornwall Music Festival next month. In English, they used their research, note-making and report writing skills to produce an information leaflet about Kookaburras (the subject for their performance piece). In Maths, the children have been learning how to find an area of shapes using squares, and have been getting messy, using clay to make Egyptian masks in Art & Design. They've also been busy in PE, I've heard the children were able to show off their fantastic gymnastic skills whilst working together to perform mini shows.

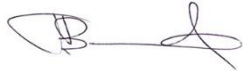

We have a new date for our KS2 Pottery Workshop, which will now be taking place on Monday 28th February. This is a great community project together with Frogpool Chapel, and I look forward to seeing what the children create!

Lastly, I just wanted to remind you all that next Friday (18th) is an inset day, so we will finish at the normal time of 2.45pm on Thursday 17th February.

Celebrate Michael Morpurgo Month 2022!

Come on an adventure with the nation's favourite storyteller and celebrate Michael Morpurgo Month this February!

This year's Morpurgo Month Bookclub is aimed at children aged 7+, so that Michael's younger fans can get involved! We are hoping that children and schools choose one of the 6 shortlisted books, read it, talk about it and review it just like a normal book club...

Then, by submitting your review to our competition, you could win a Michael Morpurgo Virtual Event for your school! Scroll down to enter now.
